

Envisioning the Future as the Swedenborgian Church

201st Convention at the University Place Hotel in Portland, Oregon

Friday, June 27 – Tuesday, July 1, 2025

In-person registration is open until May 15,

Virtual registration is open until June 15 on swedenborg.org

Members and friends of the Swedenborgian Church, we are happily planning to gather again in a lovely conference hotel setting that is also associated with a college: University Place Hotel and Conference Center adjacent to the lovely Portland State University campus in downtown Portland right by the Willamette River. Again, this year we will provide robust virtual support for all business sessions and worship services, as well as many of the educational events (Mini Courses). We warmly welcome people to join us in-person or online.

This year our convention for in-person attendees will offer the easiest accommodations we've had in decades since all activities (lodging, meals, business sessions, and event services) will be in the hotel building.

Our theme is "Spiritual Innovation for a Changing World" as we move into the Year of the New Jerusalem in our cycle of annual themes.

Keynote Address

Spiritual Innovation for a Changing World: The New Church Vision
By Rev. Rich Tafel.

Rich Tafel is a Swedenborgian pastor, bridge-builder, and thought leader dedicated to healing divides in our society through spiritual insight and practical action.

As pastor of Church of the Holy City in Washington, DC, and a graduate of Harvard Divinity School, Rev. Tafel has spent his life bringing people together across political, religious, and cultural lines. He developed the Cultural Translator training to help leaders navigate conflict and build coalitions rooted in deeper understanding.

In both his ministry and public life, Rich integrates faith with service, having worked in government, education, and global health. He also is the co-founder of initiatives that connect social impact investing with real-world change.

Rev. Tafel continues to teach, speak, and lead at the intersection of spirituality, public leadership, and civic renewal—living out a Swedenborgian call to serve the common good through love and wisdom in action. He also is the chair of the Council of Ministers.

Editor's Corner

Thank You and See You Soon

Even though I plan to continue to write for the Messenger when I can, this is my last official editorial. It's almost always the last thing I've done for each issue, and that holds true now as well. I am struggling with what to say, as it still feels surreal to be letting go of the Messenger Editor role. I have truly loved being involved in the denomination in this way for the past five years. I have learned so much and built strong relationships with so many of you that this will affect my life forever.

When I first met Herb Ziegler, I was pregnant with my son and had my fifteen-month-old daughter in a stroller at Convention in Bridgewater in 2012. I told Herb then when he was done being the Messenger Editor that I wanted to do it. He told me that's great, but I plan on doing it until I'm dead. I am grateful that didn't turn out to be the case, on both fronts. Herb has been one of my biggest supporters. Any time I came across anything odd, or difficult to navigate in this position, he would talk me through it with a very level head until we came across a solution on how to handle whatever issue it was. Herb is one of my dearest friends and most favorite people to have a porch sit with at Fryeburg New Church Assembly. I am thankful for his ongoing love and support.

Brittany and I used to joke with each other that between us we knew every Swedenborgian (General Church or Convention) in North America and their dietary needs—I think we were pretty close to truth on that. I am so thankful for the time I had working with Brittany and getting to know her through being co-workers. There are times in one's life when you come across special people—instant connections that will last a lifetime. So, thank you to Rev. Jane Siebert for hiring us both in the same window of time so that I was able to find one of my spiritual sisters in the world.

I knew Rev. Kevin Baxter for several years prior to working for the denomination. However, since 2020, his support and understanding of life through sarcasm and nerdy topics has got me through some of the most difficult things I've ever come across. I

A Tribute to the Departing Messenger Editor

The Year of the Word: 2024–25

For the past five years, Beki Greenwood has wowed our world with beautiful issues of the Messenger, and while we wish her well in her departure, we are surely sad to see her go. Her first issue was the February/March issue in 2020, which we will remember was at the very cusp of the outbreak of the COVID shutdown. During this phase of anxiety with lockdowns and shortage of gatherings, Beki stepped in with beautiful graphic design skills to nourish our imagination during that year and longer. She also helped strategize a streamlining of a publication system that prioritized online delivery with all its colorful attributes while minimizing the expensive black-and-white print versions via the US and Canadian mails. Looking through her issues over the past half-decade provides a vivid picture of the life of the Swedenborgian Church of North America. Her work continued an important function in our Church's history, given that the Messenger has been our official organ of denominational communication since 1855.

At that time the still young denomination decided that it was time to have a regular organ coming regularly to homes and churches, and the name they chose was The New Jerusalem Messenger. The name has evolved some over the many decades to New Church Messenger for nearly a century and was shortened simply to The Messenger in the late Sixties that was clarified a tagline in smaller print: "Official Organ of the General Convention of Swedenborgian Churches," which itself evolved in the mid-Nineties to tag The Messenger the "Official Organ of the Swedenborgian Church of North America."

It is our official organ of communication, and if you line up the full run of Messengers from beginning to the current moment (and I have done this in our library), Beki's Messengers jump out with their vivid colorful and artistic designs. You can spot them from thirty yards away.

With great gratitude and appreciation, we salute and celebrate Beki Greenwood's contribution and gift to our current life and our history. We are delighted to report as well that we have an interim editor to step in immediately in Brittany Price, who was recently our Central Office manager, who possesses excellent editorial and graphic design skills. We will be running an open search for the permanent editor's position, but for now we pause to be thankful for the talent and production of Beki Greenwood.

Nominations for Elected Positions in the Swedenborgian Church

The Nominating Committee nominates at least one candidate for each open elected position. Elective offices and nominees to date are listed on the chart shown on the right. If you are interested in being nominated for any position, contact the Nominating Committee through Central Office. The following candidate statements have been received by the Messenger.

Kurt Fekete
Vice President
(one-year term)

I am incredibly honored to accept the nomination to the position of Vice President. Raised in a Swedenborgian family, I attended Sunday School at the Detroit church (later Royal Oak) and loved my years at Almont summer camp and youth retreats. Fascinated by Swedenborg's work and science, I studied chemical engineering at Wayne State University and worked in that field into my forties. I helped launch the Transitions young adult group in the 1990s, served on the Almont New Church Assembly board, and volunteered as a youth leader throughout my adult life. This passion led me to become the Youth Director for the Swedenborgian Church in 2001. Now in my twenty-fourth year, I still love working with young people while also serving as vice president. I strive for excellence in my work with President Jim Lawrence, the Executive Committee, and General Council.

She currently serves as treasurer for the Pacific Coast Association and previously served as a Board Member of Wayfarers Chapel.

Professionally, Jennifer completed a twenty-plus year career as a Principal with KPMG in its Silicon Valley office where she led the Forensic Practice and served as the Partner-in-Charge of Corporate Responsibility for the office. Greetings! It's once again an honor to accept nomination for the office of Recording Secretary of the General Convention, a position to which I was first elected in 2015. Member-At-Large of the Pacific Coast Association (PCA). I have served on the former Ministries Support Unit for several years, the Nominating Committee more than once, and I was the Secretary of the PCA for several years, as well as holding elected positions on the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Society and the Wayfarers Chapel Board of Directors. I continue to very much enjoy working as Secretary and hope to continue in the position. Thank you for your consideration.

I live in the rural mountains of upstate New York with my husband, Chris, and our three pets—High King Aslaan and Prince Caspian the Maine Coon Cats and Lexi the Puggle. I completed my Ph.D. in Educational Psychology and Methodology with a focus on Special Education in May of 2022. After realizing that academia wasn't for me, I went back to teaching elementary school and now teach a special class of kids with severe social and emotional

Rev. Kevin Baxter Standing Committee for Communication & Information (three-year term)

Rev. Kevin Baxter is the Pastor of the Boston Society of the New Jerusalem, also known as Church on the Hill. He is running for his second term on the SCCI, this is his second go around on the SCCI since its inception. Previous to that, he served on IMSU for several terms. Light web programming, publishing, and audio/visual skills prepare him for the unique skill set needed to examine what it means for the denomination to communicate. As he is fifty, he is beginning to wonder what things like TikTok might be. As he moves toward cultural irrelevance, he continues to try and make a difference.

Rev. Jane Siebert Standing Committee for Financial Accountability (three-year term)

I'm ready to serve again because I love our church. Three years ago, I finished serving two terms as President of the SCNA. I have watched from a distance as Rev. Dr. Jim Lawrence picked up the reins and didn't miss a beat. I am excited with the new initiatives and many changes that have occurred, and I hope to do my part. All of our committees are filled with volunteers that give of their time and abilities in a variety of ways. I would like to serve on the SCFA whose "central focus is on the wise use and development of the resources as are directly under the Swedenborgain Church's control" (Bylaws Article X). Convention 2025 Accommodations – Explained!

BY JACKIE SHIHADDEH, OPERATIONS MANAGER

There are a few important updates to accommodations this year as we prepare for the 201st Annual Convention of the Swedenborgian Church of North America.

What's New in 2025?

- Everyone, including teens, will stay in the hotel this year—no dorms at all.
- Teens (ages 13–18) only need to pay the registration fee of $110. If a teen stays in a double room in the hotel with other Swedenborgian Church Youth League (SCYL) teens, their room and board will be fully covered thanks to generous donations. Parents are not required to stay with them—they'll be housed together as part of the supervised SCYL program.

This is a big shift from past years, when SCYL participants stayed in dormitories—this year, they'll enjoy the comfort of hotel accommodations alongside the rest of our community.

Summer Camps

Almont Summer School 2025

Saturday, July 12 – Sunday, July 20

We are excited to share the topic for the Almont Summer School's 2025 Session, "Correspondences: A Magic Key to the Bible and Our Natural World." This year's theme honors the memory of one of our camp's "precious jewels," Mrs. Joyce Fekete, and her work in helping to bring the understanding of Swedenborgian Correspondences to life. An example for consideration is a small bird darting through your sight. You may hardly notice it, but Jesus reminds us that even the tiny sparrow is important (Matthew 10:29). This little bird corresponds to a spiritual thought that may flit through your mind. Through these earthly natural things, God is continually attempting to communicate with us. Pay attention. Take time to notice the world around you. What is the spiritual thought you might have missed if you did not pay attention? Swedenborg's Correspondences can open our eyes, hearts, and minds to experience the Spirit of Holiness in a personal way. Correspondence is alive, like the world around us.

Through lectures and classroom study, we will explore this "magic key" to open the Word to a deeper understanding and draw us closer to God. Joyce wrote the first pamphlet titled

Saturday, July 26 – Sunday, August 10

The Fryeburg New Church Assembly multi-generational family camp will meet this summer from the banks of the beautiful Saco River in Fryeburg, Maine. All who are interested in what the FNCA has to offer are welcome.

There will be a full religious program including chapel services, lectures for the adults, and religion classes for the teens and children. The 1st Week lecture theme is Biblical: "God's Promises in the Bible," focusing on the seven big promises God makes to us. The second Week lecture theme is doctrinal: "Practicing Heaven," offering the opportunity to live like an angel. We are delighted to welcome Rev. Chuck Blair, along with his wife Susan, of New Church Live as this year's Rev. Everett K. Bray Visiting Lecturer.

"Be Love, Be Honest, Be Useful" is

The Magic Key, in the early 1970s. A third edition is being edited by her son, Mr. Kurt Fekete, Mrs. Beki Greenwood, Rev. Jane Siebert, and Rev. Dr. Jim Lawrence, with illustrations by her granddaughter, Miss Zsa Zsa Dolley; and will be reprinted for everyone to get a new copy at camp. The reprint is dedicated to Joyce and her love of Correspondences and of Almont. As we prepare to gather and "Live the Golden Rule" this summer, our sincerest hope is that The Magic Key will serve as a guiding light to unlocking the mysteries deep within the Bible and that you will use this key to open many spiritual doors in the everyday. We welcome you to join us.

Other camp activities include a daily arts and crafts program, swimming, hiking, music, games, conversation, porch sitting, a wide variety of evening program events, healthy and delicious meals, and shared community with like-minded people.

FNCA Work Weekend, for anyone who would like to volunteer to help out, will be held as usual over Memorial Day weekend, May 23–26. There is plenty of work that needs to be done and all skill levels are welcome. Many hands make light work.

Mini Course Line-Up for Convention 2025

Mini Courses will be held in three time slots that have four courses running concurrently—two in-person only and two hybrid for both in-person and virtual attendees.

Mini Courses are small group offerings for attendees to learn about a topic that is presented by someone from the Swedenborgian Church of North America or an invited guest. We are excited to be able to continue to offer a variety of formats this year for our hybrid convention. After you register, you will receive information on how to join them, both in-person and virtually.

There are two formats for Mini Courses

- In-person for on campus attendees only
- Hybrid style meetings that are also hosted on Zoom so that people can attend and participate both in-person and virtually

These three time slots have four courses running concurrently—two in-person and two hybrid for both in-person attendees and those online. Virtual attendees will be able to choose between the hybrid sessions, while the in-person attendees will be able to attend any of the courses being offered.

Created in the Image of God: Imago Dei and D.E.I.

Dr. Rebecca Esterson

This course will be in-person on campus.

This session will explore resonances between our contemporary discourses about Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion and the ancient notion of Imago Dei. Christian theologians have historically used Genesis 1:27 as a starting point for understanding the nature of divinity in relation to humanity. That “God created humankind in his own image” became known by the Latin shorthand

Imago Dei and used this as a framework for discerning ways that the human form—in body and spirit—reflects God’s form. Our Swedenborgian theology celebrates the diversity of human forms in light of Imago Dei, paving the way for an embrace the fullest possible inclusion in our communities and institutions. “Perfection comes from variety even in heaven” (Heaven and Hell §56)

Dr. Rebecca K. Esterson is the Dean of the Center for Swedenborgian Studies and the Dorothea Harvey Professor of Swedenborgian Studies. She teaches in the Department of Sacred Texts and Their Interpretation at the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley, and is a member of the Swedenborg Society of the East Bay.

Spiritual Boundaries in Relationships

Rev. Alison Moore

This course will be in-person on campus.

Swedenborgian Psychotherapist Mark Carlson has identified inner or Spiritual boundaries, which he calls “Microboundaries.” When we learn and understand where and why these boundaries exist and stop crossing them with others, our relationships, both professional and personal, will improve. There are boundaries related both to our Will and our Understanding, and they matter. Come learn about them and possibly deepen your understanding of what they are, why they matter, and how knowing about them can transform your relationships.

Rev. Alison Longstaff Moore was raised in the General Church but left that denomination to become ordained by the Swedenborgian Church of North America when she was 44. She has served as an assistant at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Canada, and as Pastor in Bath, Maine. Now at 63, she is delighted to be working again in full time ministry as the Pastor at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Kitchener, Canada.

All is Within: The Internal Sense of the Writings

Rev. Thom Muller

This course will be hybrid for both in-person and remote attendees.

In this Mini Course, we will explore the correspondential nature of Swedenborg’s writings, and how an inner reading of his works can profoundly impact our spiritual life and theological outlook.

Rev. Thom Muller is pastor at the Swedenborgian Society of the East Bay at Hillside, an Urban Sanctuary, in El Cerrito, California, as well as senior editor of Our Daily Bread. His passions include the intersection of spirituality and psychology, interfaith theology, and the Western esoteric tradition. Native of Germany, he was ordained into the ministry of the Swedenborgian Church of North America in 2016, upon receiving his theological education at Bryn Athyn College and the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley, California.

Building a Successful Hybrid Ministry

Rudy Caseres

This course will be hybrid for both in-person and remote attendees.

Hybrid church services are incredibly difficult to implement. Often technology goes wrong and online participants feel like they are getting a backseat experience. Learn how to get over these hurdles and what audio/visual tech your church should implement to achieve a successful hybrid or fully digital ministry.

Rudy Caseres is the Digital Communications Manager for the Swedenborgian Church of North America. This will be his third Annual Convention serving as audio/visual technical director. He has recently worked in-person with Wayfarers Chapel's Exploring New Earth digital ministry and upgraded Fryeburg New Church's hybrid services. His goal is to teach member churches what he has learned from these experiences.

The Labyrinth as a Spiritual Praxis

Dr. Dylan Odhner

This course will be in-person on campus.

Course Description: Experience the labyrinth as a tool for spiritual reflection and renewal. This course combines history, symbolism, and hands-on practice, featuring both an open-walk and a guided "Tour of the Holy City New Jerusalem" Audio-Journey. Step onto this ancient path and explore how movement, meditation, and Swedenborgian insights can deepen your spiritual practice.

Dr. Dylan Odhner is a seasoned educator with extensive experience teaching at the high school, college, and graduate levels. His passion for fostering intellectual curiosity and critical thinking reaches beyond the classroom to educational travel planning, curriculum development, and the designing of sacred spaces. He is the founder of Golden-Thread Labyrinths, a unique venture specializing in designing, building, and facilitating mission-focused meditation labyrinths, and labyrinth activities.

What are the Main Differences of the Swedenborgian beliefs from mainline Christianity, and Why?

Rev. Junchol Lee

This course will be in-person on campus.

In this Mini Course, I will to explore and point out what makes the Swedenborgian belief uniquely different from other religious beliefs, and even other Christian denominations, and thus makes it as an antidote to many poisons from shortcomings of Christianity, and ancient religions in general. One expectation is that after this Mini Course, people may be able to answer the age-old simple question, "How are you different?"

After his ordination in July, 2000, Junchol served on many committees of the General Convention including Executive Committee of Council of Ministers (six years), Ministry Support Unit (three years), Committee of Admission into Ministry (seven years), the General Council (one year), and served SCYL as the Youth Chaplain for seven terms. Also, Junchol offered Mini Courses at Convention for many years, and delivered lectures at the Almont Summer Camp. Junchol is deeply interested in the spiritual aspect of education for all Swedenborgians, and finding ways to connect people with the teachings of Emanuel Swedenborg. Currently, Junchol is serving the San Francisco Swedenborgian Church as Senior Pastor.

Glorification: An Overview

Rev. Dr. Gard Perry

This course will be hybrid for both in-person and remote attendees.

The aim of this Mini Course is to bring Swedenborg's treatment of the glorification within reach of our understanding. There are four (4) topics: 1) Swedenborg's summary of the process; 2) problem statement and solution; 3) a brief biography of the historical Jesus; and 4) Swedenborg's spiritual psychology. Swedenborg's summary is from True Christianity; George Dole identified a problem of interpretation and a solution with his meta translation method; the biography of the historical Jesus builds on current scholarly consensus; and spiritual psychology is framed as "a search for truth with an aim to deepen our love for the Lord and for the neighbor."

Swedenborg's glorification summary will sound familiar, though things get difficult when we turn to his step-by-step process in the Arcana (aka, Secrets of Heaven). Large words like celestial, spiritual, and natural have multiple levels of meaning in various contexts. That prompted George Dole to apply a meta translation method of interpretation - employed here to discover what the glorification sounds like to our 21st Century lived experience. A key finding is that Swedenborg's treatment of the glorification can reach our understanding as the capacity for a deeper kind of empathy. Welcome!

Rev. Dr. Gard Perry has engaged the sections of Swedenborg's Latin text that treat the Lord's glorification for more than two decades and offers a summary of his findings in this Mini Course. Gard began his Swedenborgian life as a child at the Fryeburg New Church Assembly (FNCA) and has come full circle to be an FNCA senior lecturer. Gard has served on numerous boards and committees, currently serving on the Board of Trustees of the Center for Swedenborgian Studies, the Tafel Fund, and Council of Ministers. Gard's aim is to cultivate a practice of research and development for a 21st Century understanding and application of Swedenborgian ideas.

Swedenborg, Alchemy, and Activism: Life of an American Philosopher-Soldier

Rev. Dr. Jim Lawrence and Michael Goos

This course will be hybrid for both in-person and remote attendees.

Michael Goos and Jim Lawrence are working on a new book retrieving Ethan Allen Hitchcock's reading of Swedenborg as a hermetic and alchemical philosopher (Swedenborg, A Hermetic Philosopher, 1859). Regarded internationally as the most important American contributor to hermetic studies in the 19th century, Hitchcock is also legendary among Native Americans for his torrid campaign against the United States government for its abuse of Native Americans. Abraham Lincoln recruited Major General Hitchcock to serve in his cabinet as a war advisor, and Hitchcock was chosen to stay with Lincoln's body for two days after the assassination. This Mini Course will explore the social justice activism and philosophical interpretation of Swedenborg by an American hero.

Michael Goos is a student at the Center for Swedenborgian Studies, an ordinand with General Convention, and a recipient of the Nunc Licet scholarship who is deeply grateful to be a member of the Swedenborgian community. In addition to pursuing the ministry, Michael aspires to lift-up neglected

Swedenborgian figures from history.

Rev. Dr. Jim Lawrence is President of the Swedenborgian Church of North America and scholar of Swedenborgian history and spirituality.

Paul: The Difficult Apostle

Dell Rose

This course will be in-person on campus.

Paul of Tarsus was one of the most complex and influential thinkers of all time. He was the main influence in spearheading the Jesus-Movement's transition from another Jewish messianic sect to the most successful religion of all time, Christianity. However, the dominance of his thought has also obscured the multiplicity of Christian interpretations, Swedenborg's included. Swedenborg struggled with the legacy of the difficult apostle, his ubiquity, and his qualifications 'to speak for the Lord.' In this seminar we will consider Swedenborg's critiques of Paul by highlighting the personal similarities they shared, and how both struggled to put into a system their own personal experiences of the Lord. To see Paul and Swedenborg as two travellers down the same metaphoric highway, I hope to shift the focus to the rhetorical strategies that each used to convey their teachings and reduce Paul's status as the primary exponent of the Gospel. It is hoped that by presenting this material it will give Swedenborgians the ability to engage seriously other Protestant movements who center Paul's understanding of the Christ event and to effectively engage with them.

Dell J. Rose is program director at the Swedenborg Library Chicago and is Swedenborg Society (UK) Doctoral candidate at the Centre for the History of Hermetic Philosophy at the University of Amsterdam.

His eclectic intellectual interests focus on the interplay between elite culture and esoteric spiritual currents in several different social and political contexts. At present, he is working on a monograph focusing on Swedenborgianism in Meiji Japan (2026), and his dissertation considers Swedenborgian political movements across the globe. His publications include studies of Southcottianism, British Israelism, the nascent history of the Bahá'í faith, as well as Old Norse and Welsh legal history.

Tools for Healing the Pain of Polarization

Rev. Roslyn Taylor

This course will be in-person on campus.

Most people would agree that we are living in very divisive times, around the world. Many of us are suffering from personal losses due to polarization and the relationship fractures that can result from an "us versus them" mentality, whatever the context. Rooted in Swedenborgian teachings, this Mini Course explores two tools to use as pathways to bridge divides and restoring relationships. Through drawing on our Divinely given human potentials, we can begin to heal the pain of our polarization on many levels.

Rev. Roslyn Taylor is a minister with the Swedenborgian Church of North America, living in Bryn Athyn, Pennsylvania. She has been the spiritual leader of the Home Church in Bryn Athyn since 2003. She was the editor of a volume of essays by Swedenborgian authors, published in 2005 as Healing Words: A Sampler of Wholeness Theology. More recently, she founded the Deborah's Tree ministry in 2021, which promotes the work of female Swedenborgian scholars, writers, clergy, and artists. Rev. Taylor has been active in the Gathering Leaves retreats for Swedenborgian/New Church women since 2004 and is currently chairing the Steering Committee for Gathering Leaves 2025.

Honoring Historic Sacred Spaces: Restoration and Evolution

Rev. Shada Sullivan

This course will be hybrid for both in-person and remote attendees

The Church of the Holy City in Wilmington Delaware is one of the oldest Swedenborgian churches in the United States. It has a fascinating history, and it continues to hold space for a vibrant congregation and evolving uses. Historic buildings need intentional and ongoing care, which takes time and resources. This mini-course will discuss the history of The Church of the Holy City, its current uses, and knowledge gained from its restoration journey, which includes being a recipient of a prestigious National Fund for Sacred Places challenge grant.

Rev. Shada Sullivan has been the Pastor at The Church of the Holy City in Wilmington Delaware since 2017. She is a founding member of the leadership team of Swedenborgians in Action Against Racism, and is co-chair of the SCNA Social Justice Committee. Rev. Convention Youth Programs

I am thrilled to announce that we've got two great youth programs lined up for this summer's annual Convention at the University Place Hotel & Conference Center adjacent to Portland State University in Portland, Oregon.

All youth are encouraged to attend, and both our children's program and our teen program have subsidies available to help families manage the cost. We realize that Convention is a very expensive trip for most families and we're working hard to find ways to help as many children attend as possible. Teens (ages 13 – 18) in the SCYL program will be staying in their own rooms in the hotel. Children under the age of 13 will stay in the hotel with a parent or guardian. Travel assistance is available up to fifty percent reimbursement for both children and teens.

The children's program, for youth aged 6 – 12, will follow the Convention theme of "Spiritual Innovation for a Changing World." The youth will experience lessons and crafting workshops exploring this topic with an outstanding leader with great experience teaching and working with children.

Our teens will again be led by youth director, Kurt Fekete. The teens will work hard on a theatrical worship service to be presented to the congregation. Of course, teens will also have lots of time to gather for recreation, play, and outings.

We're so excited to have youth attend Convention as our spiritual community is not complete without them! Contact me, Kurt Fekete: kfekete@hotmail.com, 802-345-0169 if you would like more information. We would love to have you and your family include Convention in this year's summer plans! 📍

About the Swedenborgian Church

Emanuel Swedenborg was born on January 29, 1688, in Stockholm, Sweden. Although he never intended a church denomination to be founded or named after him, a society was formed in London fifteen years after his death. American groups eventually founded the General Convention of Swedenborgian Churches.

As a result of Swedenborg's spiritual questioning and insights, we as a church exist to encourage that same spirit of inquiry and personal growth, to respect differences in views, and to accept others who may have different traditions.

In his theological writings, Swedenborg shared a view of God as infinitely loving and at the very center of our beings, a view of life as a spiritual birthing as we participate in our own creation, and a view of scripture as a story of inner life stages as we learn and grow. Swedenborg said, "All religion relates to life, and the life of religion is to do good." He also felt that the sincerest form of worship is a useful life.
